

International Conference
University of Oslo, Norway
August 27-30th, 2017

AGE AGENCY AMBIGUITY

– gender and generation
in times of change

CALL FOR PAPERS This conference focuses on gender and generations in times of social and economic change. The profound effects on gender and generational relations display both differences and similarities in different national and regional contexts, and they have consequences for gender equality work and feminist academic research practices. The aim of the conference is to understand the multifaceted impacts of modernisation and crises on different age groups (Age), gendered strategies to deal with the impacts/ changes (Agency) as well as the uncertainties people are facing (Ambiguity).

KEYNOTE SPEAKERS:

- Michael Kimmel, Stony Brook, USA
- Yan Yunxiang, UCLA, USA
- Pun Ngai, Hong Kong Polytechnic University, China
- Pei Yuxin, Sun Yat-Sen, China
- Lene Myong, University of Stavanger, Norway
- Helene Aarseth, University of Oslo, Norway

WORKSHOPS:

- Generations of feminisms
- Gender equality and human rights
- Gender, environmental challenges and sustainability
- Youth, gender, generation
- Changing models and practices of masculinities/ femininities
- Body politics, bio politics, sexuality and reproduction
- Open workshops

Deadline for submission of Abstracts: 15th December 2016

See more information about the conference and about paper submission on:

<http://www.stk.uio.no/age-agency-ambiguity>

The conference is the 6th conference of the Sino-Nordic Women and Gender Studies Conference Series (see the website: nias.ku.dk/fudan/sino-nordic-gender-studies-network).

It is organized by a Sino-Nordic planning group from eight Nordic and three Chinese universities

Main organizer: Centre for Gender Research, University of Oslo